What are the laws and who do I call about neighborhood problems?

Neighborhoods are the places where we live, shop, play and work. Like our homes and businesses, neighborhoods require care and upkeep. The City frequently hears complaints about junk cars, trash on lawns, overgrown weeds, and a variety of related problems. These issues seriously affect property values and the image of the neighborhood. The complaints often end with,

“There ought to be a law…”

Indeed, there is a law in place for most chronic neighborhood problems. This guide provides a quick reference for city residents, providing an overview of some of the Official Code of the City of Great Falls (OCCGF). We hope this will help you to better the neighborhoods where you live.

This brochure was developed to provide information on commonly reported problems and who to call to obtain a particular service or receive additional information.

Neighborhood Councils

Neighborhood Councils provide a means for the citizens of Great Falls to actively participate in local government through a formal organization working at the neighborhood level. The Neighborhood Councils provide advice and counsel to the City Commission. Community entities also utilize the Neighborhood Councils as sources of outreach and education. A calendar of neighborhood council meetings can be found at www.greatfallsmt.net/calendar.

Great Falls Community Food Bank

The Great Falls Community Food Bank serves more than 65 different organizations both in and around Cascade County including our public schools, Meals on Wheels, and many more. Their mission is to engage, educate and lead our community in the fight against hunger. Among their most important projects are Backpacks4Kids Program which feeds underprivileged elementary school children on weekends and holidays. With more than 10,000 people in our County suffering from food insecurity, they are a vital organization that eases the burden for our most underprivileged residents—giving them a chance to look for work, pay for vital medicines instead of food, and study on a full stomach.

I Can Be A Good Neighbor If...

I get to know my neighbors, I’m friendly, and introduce myself and my family, including our pets.

I keep the noise down, especially at night, and try not to interrupt the peace of the neighborhood. I let my neighbors know when I am going to have a party, so that if it gets loud they are not afraid to come and let me know.

I keep my house and property maintained and clean.

I keep my yard safe by fencing and covering swimming pools, trampolines and anything that could be a hazard to adults and children.

I ensure my address number is readable from the street.

I pick up after my animals in my yard and if they go in a neighbors’ yard, I will pick that up.

I watch my neighbors’ back. I report suspicious activity to the appropriate agency. I keep my eyes and ears open; I want my neighbors watching my back.
I talk with my neighbors if there is a conflict. I should not spread rumors or gossip.

I look at my place from my neighbors’ perspective. How does my place look through their eyes?

I drive slowly when there are children and pets around.

I don’t hog the parking on the street. I won’t block the sidewalks or driveways.

I keep my sidewalks clear, removing fallen tree limbs, grass and snow as soon as possible.

I recognize that people are different. Diversity is a strength for my community.

I am appreciative of my neighbors. If I like what I see—that new flower garden, holiday decorations—I will let them know.

I truly listen to what my neighbors are saying. We must communicate.
